Dear Anne McCoy,

I would like to thank Ralph Rolle for his recent visit to BIMM Berlin. His masterclass was both inspiring and informative. His focus on the 5 P's (passion, power, placement, purity and performance) made it a unique topic and complimented his more well-known work with Chic and Nile Rogers.

I would happily recommend Ralph to visit any other music education provider as I feel his 35 years of experience within the music industry – coupled with his humorous anecdotes – leaves a lasting impression on all students, not just the drummers.

I would also like to add that Ralph is incredibly generous to provide his contact details should students wish to follow up with him directly, and is a testament to his commitment to music education.

Kind regards,

Lisa Wadham
